FUND EXPERTS FORUM – DEEP DIVE #5 THE FUTURE OF MONEY

The increasing digitisation of our lives has also inevitably extended to the financial sector and we now see a combination of traditional as well as new players to the market dealing in the future of money. The innovative concepts now being developed are more than capable of leading to fundamental changes in the global monetary system and a revolution within the traditional financial sector.

What would happen if central banks decided to do away with paper money and introduced an international digital currency transaction system? Do cryptocurrencies signal the end of cash as we know it? If so, what alternatives do we have and what are the consequences of digitising for asset managers and other financial service providers?

As part of the Fund Experts Forum Deep Dive we invite you to join us to get to the bottom of these and other issues relating to the future of money. Delve into the detail and discuss possible future scenarios, capabilities and challenges with our experts.

I look forward to seeing you at the forum which promises to encourage some particularly lively debate.
